IN STEYR

UN#ERHÖRT, this Bruckner!

Music & Relationship Stories from Steyr

An exhibition of the Stadtmuseum Steyr with the support of Kultur Oberösterreich and the "OÖ KulturEXPO Anton Bruckner 2024".

Anton Bruckner irritated his contemporaries and remains a mystery to this day, around which attempts at interpretation and anecdotes entwine. In Steyr he found "coolness and tranquility" for composing and established close friendly relations. The exhibition invites visitors to follow Bruckner's traces in Steyr and to get to know his acquaintances. The curators show how Bruckner's quest for recognition was #HEARD and how he has always been celebrated in Steyr. Visitors will meet the composer and #LISTEN to works by the master. Interactive music installations and contemporary compositions take visitors into previously unknown worlds of sound. The exhibition traces the person Anton Bruckner in Steyr and tells UN#HEARD stories.

Garden of dreams

In 2004, after heavy flooding, the garden was raised, replanted and extended to now 3000m<sup>2</sup>. The dream of a species-diverse garden began to come true.

Over the years, more and more ideas were gradually put into practice: various antiques standing out in a flower bed, sculptures made of plants, works made of roots, self-made walls, stairs, benches bordered with plants, various flower beds, garden houses, patterns of stones on the ground, a pond as well as an old carriage and countless other things. Since the owners are animal lovers, there is also room for small animals in the garden parade, which was created with a lot of heartfelt love. The garden can be visited by appointment.

Furthermore, the garden is available for weddings, confirmations, first communions and other events. There is the possibility of decorations, as well as coffee and pastries - all on the basis of voluntary donations.

PILGRIMAGE

Pilgrimage Church Christkindl

In 1695 the seriously ill tower watchman and bandmaster Ferdinand Sertl placed a small wax figure of the Christ child into the hollow of a fir tree. Several times a week he returned to the place to pray. After he was cured of epilepsy, the place attracted so many pilgrims that it became necessary to build a church. It was given the name "To the Christ child below the heavens". The construction of the church was begun by Giovanni Battista Carlone in 1702. It was finished by Jakob Prandtauer between 1708 and 1725. The miracle-working figure is only a 10 cm tall standing wax figure of the Christ child holding a cross and a crown of thorns in its hands and is now housed in a little reliquary on the high altar above the globe-shaped tabernacle.

Heiligenstein Pilgrimage Church

The pilgrimage site to St. Sebald high above Gaflenz, visible from afar, has been unique since the 15th century. The mountain church on the 782 m high hill between Gaflenz and Weyer is the only Sebaldus church in Austria. St. Sebald is considered an intercessor in illness and misfortune, a patron saint of cattle and even a matchmaker.

The Heiligenstein theme trail was opened in 2013: At several stations in and around the church, visitors receive the most important information about the history of the mountain saint, his significance as a place of pilgrimage and about the work of St. Sebald.

Several hiking trails lead romantically through the forest and meadows and invite you to visit the church and the snack station. Since 2020, the Heiligenstein has been the highlight of the Sebaldus Trail through the National Park region.

Pilgrimage Church Christkindl

In 1695 the seriously ill tower watchman and bandmaster Ferdinand Sertl placed a small wax figure of the Christ child into the hollow of a fir tree. Several times a week he returned to the place to pray. After he was cured of epilepsy, the place attracted so many pilgrims that it became necessary to build a church. It was given the name "To the Christ child below the heavens". The construction of the church was begun by Giovanni Battista Carlone in 1702. It was finished by Jakob Prandtauer between 1708 and 1725. The miracle-working figure is only a 10 cm tall standing wax figure of the Christ child holding a cross and a crown of thorns in its hands and is now housed in a little reliquary on the high altar above the globe-shaped tabernacle.
